It is hoped to publish the following papers in a forthcoming issue of the Journal:

Galletti, F. & Gardi, R. Effect of ovarian hormones and synthetic progestins on vaginal sialic acid in the rat.

Rajaneniem, Hannu & Vanha-Perttula, Tapani. Attachment to the luteal plasma membranes: an early event in the action of luteinizing hormone.

Greig, Fenella & Weisz, Judith. Preovulatory levels of luteinizing hormone, the critical period and ovulation in rats.

de Jong, F. H., Hey, A. H. & Van der Molen, H. J. Effect of gonadotrophins on the secretion of oestradiol-17β and testosterone by the rat testis.

Clark, A. F. & Bird, C. E. Binding of 5α-androstane-3α,17β-diol to human plasma proteins.

Forsling, Mary L., Martin, Marion J., Sturdy, J. C. & Burton, Angela M. Observations on the release and clearance of neurophysin and the neurohypophysial hormones in the rat.

Beale, R. N., Croft, D. & Powell, Denise. Some effects of thyroid disease on neutral steroid metabolism.

Short Communications

Chandola, Asha, Thapliyal, J. P. & Gupta, S. C. Male hormone and thyroid function in the Indian garden lizard, Calotes versicolor.

Review

Thomas, P. J. Steroid hormones and their receptors.
ANNOUNCEMENT

The Fourth Congress of the International Society for Psychoneuroendocrinology will be held from 7 to 11 September 1973 at the University of California, Berkeley, California, U.S.A.

Further details can be obtained from the Organizing Committee Secretary, International Society for Psychoneuroendocrinology, Department of Physiology–Anatomy, University of California, Berkeley, California 94720, U.S.A.